

What Differentiates Sigma

FOR YOUR PROJECT

"Let me thank you for opening our eyes to SIGMA and the extraordinarily good job your team does on projects. I could feel the commitment to integrity ... and it was obvious you've made that a founding principle of your business. Our experiences with you and your team have been some of our best..."

In our more than 35 years Sigma Contracting has forged a stellar reputation and a portfolio of experience and expertise brought to each and every project. Because of this, Sigma has a time tested process that is smooth and efficient. With the longevity of our core staff averaging over 20 years, and the fact that your project has hands on ownership from beginning to end, you will have a team that is knowledgeable, capable of quick problem solving and decision making, and vested in your project success.

The majority of our projects come from repeat clients and referrals. If we are looking to work with you on your project, it is because we are the right size company to provide the attention deserved. Too often a large company takes on a small project and it withers, or a small company takes on a project outside its competence. We look for the right projects that fit our capabilities and the expertise of our team. We know that with this, combined with our signature ownership oversight throughout the project, we will be successful. Our goal is to excel and build a project that results in satisfied customers - ones that will continue to call us time and again to bring life to their visions in an ongoing relationship.

Let us put Sigma's team and decades of experience and expertise to work for you!
